THE UNIVERSITY

Florida International University – Miami's public research university – is one of America's most dynamic institutions of higher learning. Since opening in 1972, FIU has achieved many benchmarks of excellence that have taken other universities more than a century to reach. FIU, a member institution of the State University System of Florida, was established by the Florida Legislature in 1965. Classes began in September 1972, with 5,667 students enrolled in upper division and graduate programs – the largest opening day enrollment in U.S. collegiate history. In 1984, FIU received authority to begin offering degree programs at the doctoral level. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching ranks FIU as a Research University in the High Research Activity Category.

FIU has nationally and internationally renowned faculty known for their outstanding teaching and cutting-edge research; students from throughout the U.S. and more than 150 foreign countries; and alumni who have risen to prominence in every field and are a testament to the University's academic excellence. The University is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most distinguished academic honor society. Florida International University offers more than 190 baccalaureate, master's and doctoral degree programs in the following colleges and schools: College of Architecture and The Arts (School of Architecture, School of Music); College of Arts and Sciences (School of International and Public Affairs); College of Business Administration (School of Accounting, Chapman Graduate School); College of Education; College of Engineering and Computing (School of Computing and Information Sciences); College of Law; College of Medicine; College of Nursing and Health Sciences; Honors College; Robert Stempel College of Public Health and Social Work; School of Journalism and Mass Communication; School of Hospitality and Tourism Management; and the University Graduate School.

FIU has more than 39,100 students, 1,180 full-time faculty, and more than 146,000 alumni, making it the largest university in South Florida and placing it among the nation's largest colleges and universities. The University has two campuses – Modesto A. Maidique Campus in western Miami-Dade County and the Biscayne Bay Campus in northeast Miami-Dade County – and an educational site at the Pines Educational Center in adjacent Broward County. Additionally, numerous programs are offered at off-campus locations and online. Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine ranked FIU among the best values in public higher education in the country.

Research is a major component of our mission. The purpose of the Office of Research is to facilitate new discoveries and thereby improve the quality of life in our region, the state and the larger international community. We are particularly interested in environmental quality, energy, health, water quality, sustainable communities, economic development, security and safety. Multidisciplinary teams, information technology and international culture are among the major themes in our research.

FIU is one of the nation's major research universities and we expend approximately $100 million annually on research. Our research is funded by more than 200 public and private organizations, and in terms of dollar value, our largest sponsor is the Federal Government with funding from 41 different Federal agencies. The University has many specialized research facilities including a new nano scale research and fabrication laboratory. We also conduct many studies "off site" throughout the United States and the world. Undergraduate and graduate students participate actively in all of our research endeavors. FIU exports its discoveries for public benefit through publications, formal technology transfer agreements, public testimony and evidence-based advocacy, and the development of the next generation of scholars.

Three of the building's nine galleries are dedicated to the permanent collection, while the remaining six feature rotating exhibitions.

The new School of International and Public Affairs, which was officially inaugurated January 2009, has broken ground to a five-story building, designed by world-renowned, award-winning Miami-based firm Arquitectonica. The building's 58,400-square-foot phase one is scheduled to be completed in mid 2010.
