Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) is one of the Departments in the Nicole Wertheim College of Nursing and Health Sciences. This CSD Department offers a master's degree program in Speech Language Pathology. Additionally, nine required undergraduate prerequisite courses are offered for interested applicants who have a bachelor's degree in another discipline. The unique focus of the CSD department is one of Cultural and Linguistic Diversity (CLD). The goal of the department is to educate CLD professionals to meet the needs of multicultural populations with communication disorders. Students matriculating in the program will benefit from the infusion of CLD throughout the curriculum. Special emphasis is placed on the provision of services to the bilingual population of the Metropolitan Miami area. Students will take extra coursework that emphasize multilingual/multicultural issues as they apply to language acquisition as well as assessment and intervention of speech and language disorders in adults and children.

Students will also have opportunities to receive clinical education from a variety of clinical settings in the Miami Metropolitan area including hospitals, schools, private practices and community based clinics that will further their experience with multilingual/multicultural populations. They also will be required to engage in research projects with faculty members. A description of the admission requirements and a description of the master's program follow.

Admission Criteria

Applicants for admission to the master's degree program must meet the current FIU minimum standards for admission to graduate school.

1. A grade point average of 3.0 in the last 60 hours of undergraduate study
2. Bachelor's degree
3. International graduate student applicants whose native language is not English are required to submit a score for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or for the International English Language Testing System (IELTS). A total score of 80 on the iBT TOEFL or 6.5 overall on the IELTS is required.

Additionally, the CSD department requires the following for admission to the graduate program:

1. Departmental application
2. FIU Graduate School online application
3. Letter of interest summarizing interests
4. Two letters of recommendation from persons with knowledge of academic performance
5. Bachelor's degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders or completion of the 9 required prerequisite courses.
6. Students considered for graduate admission will be invited for an interview and asked to complete a spontaneous writing sample. Accommodations will be made for invited students who are not able to come to campus.

Requirements for students without a bachelor's degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders

The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders requires an individual applying for the master's degree to hold a bachelor's degree in communication disorders or its equivalent. An applicant's undergraduate background influences the time necessary to complete the graduate degree, as there are 9 prerequisite courses required for entrance to the graduate program via the SLP Certificate program. The following courses or their equivalents are required in the SLP Certificate are listed below:

LIN 3013	General Linguistics	3
SPA 4002	Survey of Communication Disorders	3
SPA 4004	Introduction to Speech & Language Development and Disorders	3
SPA 4011	Speech & Hearing Science	3
SPA 4030	Introduction to Audiology	3

Please NOTE that this program is being phased out effective end of Spring semester 2016 and is no longer accepting applications for admission. The program has been replaced with the Graduate Certificate Program in Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD). Interested individuals should contact the department prior to completing an application for admission.

Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology

The Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology consists of 57-60 graduate hours. The specific credit hours required will depend upon student's selection of thesis versus non-thesis options. Full time enrollment is required. Students will complete six semesters in the program. Student progress will be monitored each semester by departmental faculty.

An overall GPA of 3.0 is required for graduation. A grade of "B" or higher is required for all courses in your program of study. If a student receives a grade of "B-" or below, then that course must be retaken; however, only two courses can be repeated. Any student who earns a grade of "B-" or lower in more than two courses will be terminated from the program.

Clinical practicum hours will be obtained in a variety of community settings. A minimum of 400 clock hours is required for graduation. Passage of the new PRAXIS examination (162 passing score) is required for degree completion.

The program of study provides students with theoretical and clinical education to develop the competencies needed to practice as a speech-language pathologist. Upon completion of the master's degree, the graduate will have met all academic and practicum requirements for applying for the Certificate of Clinical Competence awarded by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association.

The Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology at Florida International University is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CAA) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, 2200 Research Blvd, Rockville, MD 20850, (301) 296-5700. Please feel free to contact the CAA if you have any questions about accreditation.
