Master of Public Administration

The Master of Public Administration prepares students for careers in public service and non-profit organizations. It also prepares students for private sector positions having significant contact with public organizations. The degree provides pre-service and mid-career students with an appropriate mix of technical and generalist skills needed for management and analytic positions in local, state, and federal government, as well as non-profit organizations. Students are given broad exposure to the field in the core and subsequently develop expertise within their areas of specialization. The degree also provides students with the necessary analytic and substantive background for successful pursuit of doctoral studies within the discipline. Graduates are well-prepared for positions as city manager, finance director, budget analyst, personnel director, special project coordinator and program analyst.

The MPA Program in Public Administration is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration. Accreditation by this agency ensures the student that the program has been reviewed and meets the national standards for graduate studies in the field.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program must:

- Have earned a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution;
- Have a GPA of 3.0 or better in all upper division (undergraduate) course work;
- Take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) if their GPA in the upper division 60 credits is less than 3.5, and submit the score by the application deadline; LSAT and GMAT Scores are also accepted as substitutes for the GRE Score. Students with more than three years of substantial administrative experience (as determined by MPA Director), and students who have more than 18 credits of graduate-level coursework with the grades of "B" or better, may be exempted from the GRE requirement by the MPA Director;
- Submit three academic or professional letters of recommendation from faculty members at their undergraduate institution or from employment supervisors;

- Submit a current resume; and
- Demonstrate graduate level writing competency and interest in public service values by submitting a letter-of-intent not to exceed three double-spaced pages explaining how earning the Master of Public Administration is consistent with long-term career goals. Students may also use this letter to discuss their passion for public issues or policies and to communicate to the admission committee if they feel that their admission file does not properly reflect their potential to succeed in graduate school.

All above documents must be submitted by the stated application deadline.

Exceptions to the graduate admissions requirement

Students with a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and who have an undergraduate GPA of 2.75 or greater may be admitted to a Public Administration graduate certificate program, subject to the approval of the Program Director or designee. Students admitted to a certificate program who have completed 12 graduate certificate credits may apply to the MPA program through the regular admission process and by the stated deadlines. The full 15 or 18 credits obtained in a Public Administration graduate certificate program may be used to satisfy requirements of the MPA degree, provided the student is admitted to the MPA program prior to the completion of the final six graduate certificate credit hours required to obtain the certificate.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Public Administration (MPA) program requires 42 credit hours for all students not having a Bachelor of Public Administration from a public university in the State of Florida.

Students with less than three years of public service (public or non-profit sectors) experience in positions with some management or project management responsibilities may be required to complete a public service internship. PAD 6946, Public Administration Internship, may be used as an elective toward satisfaction of the 42 credit requirement for program completion.

Core Courses (24 credits)

(Core Courses may be restricted to Degree-seeking or Certificate graduate students in the Department of Public Administration. All other students must seek approval of Department)

The MPA core consists of the following eight courses:

PAD 6056*	The Practice of Public Management	3
PAD 6227	Public Finance and the Budgetary Process	3
PAD 6417	Human Resource Policy and Management	3
PAD 6306	Policy Analysis and Planning	3
PAD 6701	Quantitative Methods in Public Administration	3
PAD 6434	Leadership and Decision-making	3

PAD 6726 Applied Research Methods for Accountability in Public and Non-Profit
Organizations 3
(Prerequisite: PAD 6701)

Electives (18 credits)

Six (6) elective courses required.

Grading, Sequencing, and Substitution Policy

PAD 6053, PAD 6701, and PAD 6726, must be taken during the first 18 credit hours of course work. PAD 6701 is a prerequisite for PAD 6726.

*PAD 6056, The Practice of Public Management is a capstone experience for the program and must be taken after the successful completion of MPA core or last semester of course work. The program reserves the right to withhold the awarding of credit for course work taken out of sequence and without appropriate prerequisites.

Any core course with the exception of PAD 6056 may be waived through petition to the MPA Program Director or designee. The petitioner must demonstrate the equivalence of the previous coursework, and prove that their performance met or exceeded core requirements.

Students must maintain a 3.0 cumulative graduate GPA to graduate. A grade of 'C' or better is required for every core course. Note: A 'C-' is not acceptable.

Executive Master of Public Administration Track

The Executive MPA track (EMPA) builds upon the extensive knowledge base that experienced public service professionals possess. The EMPA curriculum provides a hands-on and in-depth exposure to the leadership, managerial and analytic skills critical to advanced public sector professionals. The core courses are the same courses required by the traditional MPA program. The difference between this track and the traditional MPA is the pedagogical approach, delivery format, scheduling, facility and the executive-level cohort.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Executive MPA track must:

- Have earned a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution;
- Have a GPA of 3.0 or better in all upper division (undergraduate) course work;
- Take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) if their GPA in the upper division 60 credits is less than 3.0, and submit the score by the application deadline; LSAT and GMAT Scores are also accepted as substitutes for the GRE Score. Students with more than 18 credits of graduate-level coursework with the grades of "B" or better, may be exempted from the GRE requirement by the MPA Director;
- Submit three academic or professional letters of recommendation from faculty members at their undergraduate institution or from employment supervisors;
- Submit a current resume showing five to ten years of cumulative experience with public or non-profit organizations and at least three years of middle-to-upper level managerial experience; and
- Demonstrate graduate level writing competency and interest in public service values by submitting a letter-of-intent not to exceed three double-spaced pages explaining how earning the Master of Public Administration is consistent with long-term career goals. Students may also use this letter to discuss their passion for public issues or policies and to communicate to the admission committee if they feel that their admission file does not properly reflect their potential to succeed in graduate school.

Any core course with the exception of PAD 6056 may be waived through petition to the MPA Program Director or designee. The petitioner must demonstrate the equivalence of the previous coursework, and prove that their performance met or exceeded core requirements.

Juris Doctor/Master of Public Administration Joint Degree Program

The faculties of the College of Law and the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs have approved a joint degree program culminating in both a Juris Doctor degree (J.D.), awarded by the College of Law, and a Master of Public Administration degree (MPA), awarded by the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs. Under the joint degree program, a student can obtain both degrees in significantly less time than it would take to obtain both degrees if pursued consecutively. Essential criteria relating to the joint degree program are as follows:

1. Candidates for the program must meet the entrance requirements for and be accepted by both programs. Both programs must be informed by the student at the time of application to the second program that the student intends to pursue the joint degree.
2. The joint degree program is not open to students who have already earned one degree.
3. For law students, enrollment in the MPA program is required no later than the completion of 63 credit hours in the J.D. program. For MPA students, enrollment in the J.D. program is required no later than the third semester after beginning the MPA program. A summer session is counted as half a semester.
4. A student must satisfy the curriculum requirements for each degree before either degree is awarded. The Department of Public Administration will allow 9 credit hours of College of Law courses, as approved by the MPA program Director, in consultation with the Dean of the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs, to be credited toward both the MPA and J.D. degrees.
5. Reciprocally, law students may receive 9 hours of credit toward the satisfaction of the J.D. degree for courses taken in the MPA curriculum upon completion of the MPA degree with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher.
6. A student accepted by both degree programs may begin studies in either the College of Law or the Department of Public Administration, but full-time law students must take the first two semesters of law study consecutively and part-time law students must take the first three semesters of law study consecutively. Students electing to begin study in one school under the joint degree program may enter the second school thereafter without once again qualifying for admission so long as they have notified the second school before the end of the first week of the first semester in the second school and are in good academic standing when studies commence in the second school.
7. A student enrolled in the joint degree program will not receive either degree until the student has satisfied all of the requirements for both degrees, or until the student has satisfied the requirements of one of the degrees as if the student had not been a joint degree candidate.

Master of Science in Criminal Justice/Master of Public Administration Joint Degree Program

The Department of Criminal Justice and the Department of Public Administration have a joint degree program culminating in both a Master of Science in Criminal Justice (MSCJ) and a Master of Public Administration (MPA). The joint degree program prepares graduate students for overlapping careers in criminal justice and public management. It is intended to prepare students for positions in public, private, and nonprofit organizations that require both criminal justice and management knowledge. Under the joint degree program, a student can obtain both degrees in significantly less time than it would take to obtain both degrees if pursued consecutively. Important criteria relating to the joint degree program are as follows:

1. Candidates to the joint degree program must meet the entrance requirements established by each individual program. Candidates must indicate in the application their intention to pursue the joint degree option. Students deciding to pursue the joint degree option after having been admitted to one program will indicate this intention only on their second application.
2. Applicants for a joint degree will not be accepted from candidates who have already completed either degree. MSCJ or MPA students must apply and be admitted by no later than the second to last semester in which they are expected to complete their original degree requirements.
3. Joint degree candidates will not receive either degree until all requirements for both programs have been satisfied. Students deciding against completing a second degree must satisfy all first degree program requirements as if the student had never been a joint degree candidate.
4. The joint degree requires a total of 60 credit hours (20 courses). Candidates are required to complete the 11 core courses (33 credits) included in the MSCJ and MPA programs (completing the graduate level statistics and research method classes as part of the MPA Core or the CJ Core), four criminal justice electives (12 credits), two public administration electives (6 credits) and three general electives (9 credits) which could be MSCJ, MPA, or other graduate level courses approved by the student advisor.

Combined BPA/MPA Degree Program

The combined BPA/MPA degree program offered by the Department of Public Administration allows qualified students to earn both degrees in a shorter amount of time than typically required for earning degrees sequentially. A student admitted to the combined degree program will be considered to have undergraduate status until the student applies for graduation from their bachelor's degree program. Upon conferral of the bachelor's degree, the student will be granted graduate status and be eligible for graduate assistantships.

Admissions Requirements to the Combined Degree Program

1. Overall GPA of 3.2 or better.
2. Letter of recommendation from a faculty member at FIU or from a supervisor.
3. Current resume.
4. Letter-of-intent not to exceed three double-spaced pages explaining how earning the Master's of Public Administration is consistent with long-term career goals. Students may also use this letter to discuss their passion for public issues or policies and to communicate to the admission committee if they feel that their admission file does not properly reflect their potential to succeed in graduate school.
5. Application to the combined program after having completed at least 75 credit hours but no more than 90 credit hours in the BPA program.
6. Completion of at least 12 credits of Public Administration coursework and at least 24 credits of coursework at FIU.
7. Completion of all lower division requirements, including the University Core Curriculum, prior to acceptance to the combined program.
8. Attainment of a grade of 'B' or better on all graduate courses completed while in the BPA program.

Courses Counted Toward both Degree Programs

Students accepted into the combined degree program may count no more than 4 of the master's courses (maximum of 12 credits) listed below toward satisfying both the BPA and MPA degree requirements:

PAD 6053	Political, Social and Economic Context of Public Administration	3
must be among the four double-counted courses
Students may select 3 of the following courses to be doubled-counted:
PAD 6227	Public Finance and the Budgetary Process	3
PAD 6306	Policy Analysis and Planning	3
PAD 6417	Human Resource Policy and Management	3
PAD 6434	Leadership and Decision-making	3
PAD 6701	Quantitative Methods in Public Administration (Prerequisite: PAD 4704)	3
PAD 6726	Applied Research Methods for Accountability in Public and Non-Profit Organizations	3

With advisor approval, these graduate courses can be substituted for the equivalent required or any elective bachelor's in public administration courses listed in the program catalog, with the exception of PAD 4934 Integrative Seminar, which must be taken by all BPA majors. Students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better in all upper level and graduate level coursework completed as prior to admission to the MPA program.

Students accepted into the accelerate BPA/MPA degree program must complete all of the requirements of the MPA to receive their graduate degree.

Doctor of Philosophy in Public Affairs

The Doctor of Philosophy in Public Affairs (Ph.D.) is intended to prepare graduates for research and analytic positions in universities, public bureaucracies, and nonprofit organizations. The degree content provides a foundation for undertaking policy-oriented research with emphases on urban and comparative public management and related areas of public interest. Doctoral students will be expected to demonstrate the capacity for conducting this research through successful passing of coursework and comprehensive examinations, as well as the defense of a dissertation.

The Ph.D. program broadly encompasses public administration, management, policy and service. In addition to this broad emphasis, the program offers one option: a Combined Degree with Master of Public Health (MPH). The combined degree is intended for Master of Public Health students who aim to pursue research on health related public policy and organizational management issues.

Admission Requirements

Generally, applicants must have a Master's degree prior to program enrollment, though outstanding applicants may also be considered with only a baccalaureate degree. Admission is not restricted to students with prior course work in Public Administration. The program encourages applicants with diverse academic backgrounds, with preference given to those with grounding in the policy or administrative sciences.

In order to be admitted to the Ph.D. program, an applicant must submit the following materials:

- Complete FIU Application for Doctoral Programs;
- Transcripts (applicants must demonstrate excellence in prior academic work by an earned GPA of 3.5 or better in both the undergraduate degree and the graduate degree);
- Official GRE scores (applicant is expected to have 60 percentile scores in the verbal and quantitative sections);
- A personal statement describing the applicant's background, career goals, and the reasons for pursuing a Ph.D. in Public Affairs. The statement should also indicate how research and career interests fit with those of current faculty;
- A current resume;
- Three references using the program's recommendation form;
- At least one writing sample.

Foreign applicants must demonstrate proficiency in the English language by presenting a minimum score of a 100 on the TOEFL iBT (equivalent to 600 on the paper-based Test of English as a Foreign Language, TOEFL PBT). If applicants take the language proficiency assessment administered by the International English Language Testing System (IELTS), a minimum score of 7.0 is desirable. All students living within a 50-mile radius are strongly encouraged to interview with the Ph.D. Coordinator during the admissions process. Telephone interviews may be arranged for students living outside a 50-mile radius.

The admission process is competitive and the program considers all of the evidence in the application file in making its decision. Meeting the minimum requirements does not guarantee admission and applicants failing to meet the minimum requirements may be admitted based on other evidence of potential, such as prior research or senior executive status.

Admitted students may transfer a maximum of 12 semester credits (not included in another degree) from other institutions towards Ph.D. degree requirements, subject to the approval of the Doctoral Committee. Admitted students must demonstrate knowledge of American political institutions, basic theories of public administration, social science research methods, and substantive areas of the student's research interest. Students with deficiencies in any of the above mentioned areas may be assigned additional specific coursework.

Financial Aid

The objective of financial aid is to provide direct assistance to those students who require financial assistance to complete their doctoral programs, and to enhance the reputation of the program by attracting an outstanding cadre of students.

To receive financial aid from University and Program sources, doctoral students must be enrolled full-time (9 semester hours during the term in which they receive financial aid). Students having graduate assistantships cannot hold other employment.

The exact amount of financial assistance depends upon funding provided by the University and the legislature. The current level of Program assistance is approximately $19,000 annually. Students on assistantships are eligible for tuition waivers. Assistantships do not cover additional student fees, such as health, parking, athletic fees, and per credit fees.

Program financial aid is awarded in one-year blocks, and is generally provided for up to three years of the student's doctoral study.

The University has a variety of other financial aid opportunities including graduate grants, scholarships, loans, work-study programs and targeted scholarships. Information on these and other opportunities are available through the University's financial aid offices. To apply for assistance, students should notify the Ph.D. Director of their intent at the time of application. For matriculation fee waivers and University assistance, students must file the University's Financial Aid Form (FAF) and the other University aid documents. Information on the university procedures is available in the University's Financial Aid office.

Degree Requirements

To obtain the degree, admitted students must complete at least 60 semester hours beyond the Master's degree or its equivalent, including 45 semester hours of approved course work and 15 hours of dissertation work after admission to candidacy. In addition, there is a residency requirement of at least 18 semester hours in three consecutive semesters of study during the first year of enrollment in the Ph.D. Program and a minimum of six hours required in all subsequent semesters.

Successful completion of course work and passing scores on the comprehensive examination are required before students can advance to candidacy for the Ph.D. and present a dissertation proposal. Students are advised to consult the doctoral program handbook for any additional information regarding benchmarks for student progress in grade point average, course completion, comprehensive examinations and dissertation work.

Program of Study

The Doctor of Philosophy in Public Affairs is a 60 semester hour program beyond the Master's degree, with eight required courses (24 semester credit hours), six specialization elective courses (18 semester credit hours), a comprehensive examination (minimum of three semester hours), and dissertation (15 semester hours). Students without a Master's degree (i.e. those with a Bachelor's degree only) will need to take minimum of 75 semester credit hours in the doctoral program.

During the first semester of the program, students are required to select, with the assistance and approval of the Ph.D. Director, an Advisor who is a full-time faculty member in the program. By the end of the first year, students are required to develop a program of study with the assistance and approval of their Advisor and the Ph.D. Director. The Advisor may not necessarily be the same as the student's Dissertation Committee Chair at the later stage.

PAD 7705	Applied Quantitative Analysis I	3
PAD 7707	Applied Quantitative Analysis II	3
PAD 7055	Scope and Theory of Public Administration	3

Specialization Courses (18 credits)

Students are required to take six courses in an area of specialization to be designed with the advisor. The courses must be at the 5000, 6000, or 7000 level and may be taken within the University. These specialization electives may also be especially designed courses developed in conjunction with the student's advisor and with approval of the Ph.D. coordinator. Specialization areas may include subfields within the discipline of public administration (human resource management; sub-national administration and policy, etc.) or may involve cognate disciplines (such as health services administration; criminal justice administration; environmental management; etc.). At least three hours must be URS 7926 (Supervised Readings), taken in conjunction with comprehensive examination preparation.

In developing a specialization and program of studies, students may consult with public administration faculty (and faculty in their major's department, if appropriate). If the student's principal area of interest is in a cognate discipline outside of Public Administration or the major's department, the student and Ph.D. Director should consult with appropriate faculty in designing the program of studies.

Comprehensive Examination (3 credits)

Subsequent to completion of course work, students are required to pass a two-part comprehensive examination. The first component of the comprehensive examination is a written examination testing for knowledge of the Ph.D. core and related material. The second component is the submission of a research proposal that outlines the dissertation research problem, its significance, and the research method.

Students who fail the Comprehensive Examination on the first attempt must retake the examination at its next offering. Students who fail the examination twice are automatically dismissed in accord with general University policy.

Dissertation (15 credits)

In consultation with the Ph.D. Director and the Advisor, students should identify dissertation committee chair during the first two years of the program. The student should also form the dissertation committee before the comprehensive examination. Upon successful completion of the comprehensive examination, students should finalize their dissertation proposal. Students are expected to defend the dissertation prospectus before the end of the first semester subsequent to passing the Comprehensive Examination.

Upon the public defense and approval of the proposal, the students will initiate formal work on the dissertation. During this time, the students are expected to make appropriate progress toward completing the dissertation, and to enroll continually (at least six credits per semester) until the degree is completed. Upon completion of the dissertation, candidates will formally defend the research at a meeting conducted by the Dissertation Committee. The degree will be awarded upon a positive recommendation of the Committee and compliance with all policies and procedures required by the University.

Award of en route Master's Degree to Ph.D. Candidates: Under certain circumstances, individuals directly admitted into the Ph.D. program following completion of their bachelor's degree, may be awarded a master's degree in public administration or the appropriate major. To be eligible, a student must complete core requirements in the master's program. Upon certification by the student's advisor that this requirement has been met, the Ph.D. committee will approve the award of the master's degree upon passing of comprehensive examinations.

Combined M.P.H in Health Policy and Management/Ph.D. in Public Affairs

The combined M.P.H. with a major in Health Policy and Management/Ph.D. in Public Affairs is intended for those students in the program who are interested in research on issues of public health, health policy, health management and related areas. The major is offered as a combined degree in Master of Public Health is offered by the Department of Health Policy and Management and the Ph.D. in Public Affairs is offered by the Department of Public Administration. Students in this combined degree program will need to be admitted to both the M.P.H. and the Ph.D. programs. Students intending to pursue this major must check the Health Policy and Management subplan option in the application. Students will complete the M.P.H. course requirements in the first two years, and will begin the Ph.D. program in the second year.

The admission process and degree requirements for the combined degree program are the same as that of the requirements for the main Ph.D. in Public Affairs. The program curriculum is, however, customized for the combined degree program. In addition to the core classes, the students in this combined degree program will take specialization courses in health policy and management. The students will need to be admitted to both the M.P.H. and the Ph.D. programs.

Program of Study

The combined M.P.H. with a major in Health Policy and Management/Ph.D. in Public Affairs is a 60 semester hour program (excluding the semester credit hours required for the Master of Public Health program). There are eight core courses (24 semester credit hours), six courses in health policy and management major (18 semester credit hours), a comprehensive examination (minimum of three semester credit hours), and dissertation (15 semester credit hours).

During the first semester of the Ph.D. program, students are required to select, with the assistance and approval of the Ph.D. Director, an Advisor who is a full-time faculty member in the program. By the end of the first year, students are required to develop a program of study with the assistance and approval of their Advisor and the Ph.D. Director. The Advisor may not necessarily be the same as the student's Dissertation Committee Chair at the later stage.
