Purpose

Mission

The mission of the undergraduate marketing major is to develop graduates who will be highly valued and actively recruited by the business community for their skills.

Curriculum Educational Objectives

By graduation, students are expected to be able to:

1. Recognize and apply the components that affect buyer decision-making.
2. Identify the elements of and determine appropriate practices for a personal brand strategy.
3. Identify business information needs and select appropriate data collection processes.
4. Analyze a prospect's needs, uncover the objections to closing the sale, and select appropriate sales strategies.
5. Analyze an organization's marketing strategy and determine appropriate and inappropriate marketing alternatives.

Marketing Major

Students who decide to major in marketing will be given a broad foundation in marketing concepts, and practice in their contemporary contexts. Students will have opportunities to pursue a greater depth of understanding in select areas of the discipline. Marketing majors are encouraged to apply for and complete one of the available certificate programs listed later in this section.

Marketing and Logistics Minors for Non-Business Majors

Qualified undergraduate students who are not business majors must apply to the College of Business to request one of the three minors offered in Marketing.

To earn a minor in Marketing, students must complete the required credit-hours of course work and receive a grade of "C" or higher in each course:

Minor in General Marketing for Non-Business Majors (15 credits)

All majors need to understand who their customers are, what they look for, and how to properly position a product or service for customer satisfaction. Knowing how to do these things can make a graduate much more valuable in any organization. In this minor, students can explore such areas as product planning and management, distribution, marketing research, retailing, advertising and promotion, consumer behavior, customer relations, and global marketing.

Required Courses

MAR 3023	Introduction to Marketing – GL

Minor in Logistics and Supply Chain Management for Non-Business Majors (12 credits)

In today's global economy, most organizations require the movement of information, products, supplies, materials, and personnel in order to fulfill organizational serves. This movement of human, physical, and informational capital involves logistics and supply chain management. This minor provides students with a working knowledge of logistics and supply chain concepts, and is designed to complement a student's major field of study and enhance career opportunities. Logistics knowledge can appeal to students in any field, but students in certain fields may be particularly interested, such as those in engineering, politics, architecture, environmental studies, sustainability, economics, international relations, tourism management, hospitality management, health administration, and public administration. Students in fields where they expect to deal with international transportation of physical materials or personnel would also benefit. Students must receive a grade of "C" or higher in each course to be awarded the minor.

Required Courses

TRA 4203	Principles of Logistics
TRA 4012	Principles of Transportation
TRA 4202	Logistics Technology
TRA 4214	Logistics Strategy

Minor in Professional Sales for Non-Business Majors (12 credits)

Research shows that more than 50% of college graduates from a wide variety of majors and backgrounds enter a career in sales. Sales drive economic growth in all industries and through all marketing channels. The opportunities for sales careers far outnumber those in any other area. Recruiters in all industries are looking for students who can add value to organizations, internally and/or externally. This value comes from skills in these areas: interpersonal interactions and communications, questioning, listening, objection handling, negotiations, closing and service. This minor prepares students in any academic field with real-world, specialized training in the skills needed to succeed in this career area demanded by today's job market.

Required Courses
