

School of Communication and Journalism

Dean	Brian Schriener
Associate Dean, Cultural and Community Engagement	John Stuart
Associate Dean, Faculty Development	Shahin Vassigh
Associate Dean, Strategic Initiatives	Marilys Nepomechie
Associate Dean, Strategic Communication	Maria Elena Villar
Director, Finance and Personnel	Lilia Silverio-Minaya
Interim Chair, Communication Department	Aileen Izquierdo
Chair, Journalism and Media Department	Teresa Ponte

The School of Communication and Journalism offers professional education leading to the M.S. in Mass Communication.

There are four programs that lead to the M.S. Degree in Mass Communication:

- Global Strategic Communications on-campus program
- Global Strategic Communications online program
- Global Strategic Communications/Miami Ad School program
- Spanish Language Journalism program

The Global Strategic Communication online program features specializations in global strategic communication management, conflict resolution and consensus building, and digital media. The orientation of the graduate program is primarily professional, not theoretical. The program is designed to enhance graduates' abilities to work in the mass communication professions.

Graduate Programs

The school offers academic programs leading to graduate degrees in Business Journalism, Global Strategic Communications, Mass Communication, Spanish-language Journalism, and Student Media Advising.

Certificate Programs

The school offers academic programs leading to graduate certificates in Global Strategic Communications, and Spanish-language Journalism: Investigative Reporting.