

School of Communication and Journalism

Dean	Brian Schriener
Associate Dean, Cultural and Community Engagement	John Stuart
Associate Dean, Faculty Development	Shahin Vassigh
Associate Dean, Strategic Initiatives	Marilys Nepomechie
Associate Dean, Students	David Rifkind
Associate Dean, Strategic Communication	Maria Elena Villar
Director, Finance and Personnel	Lilia Silverio-Minaya
Director, Facilities and Auxiliary Services	Mark Marine
Principle Gift Officer	Lisa Merritt
Interim Chair, Communication Department	Aileen Izquierdo
Chair, Journalism and Media Department	Teresa Ponte

The School of Communication and Journalism offers liberal arts and professional degrees which prepare students for successful careers in journalism, digital media, organizational communication, advertising, and public relations in our diverse communities and our global digital ecosystem. Our professional degrees are accredited by Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications. The faculty and staff of the School are invested in the personal and academic growth of every student and we support individual success through quality teaching – both in the traditional and the digital classrooms – and opportunities for service learning, study abroad, internships and independent research.

Undergraduate Programs

The school offers academic programs leading to undergraduate degrees in Communication Arts, with majors in Organizational Communication, Advertising, Public Relations, Broadcast Media, Digital Media Studies, and Journalism.

Minors

Minor programs of study are offered in Business Communication; Communication Studies; and International Communication.

Certificate Programs

The school offers academic programs leading to undergraduate certificates in Global Media Communication, Digital Communication and Media, Strategic Communication and Visual Production.