The African & African Diaspora Studies (AADS) Graduate Certificate seeks to provide graduate-level multidisciplinary instruction in the diverse fields of African and African Diaspora Studies. Specifically, the Certificate seeks to provide students with an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the global, economic, cultural, and historical experiences of people of African descent, both in Africa and in the Diaspora. The Certificate complements students' work in their major fields of study. Thanks to the diversity of areas of research interests of the core and affiliate AADS faculty, students may choose courses that will allow them to focus more specifically on either U.S. born African Americans, Continental Africans, or communities of the African diaspora internationally. Students may also choose courses that will bring them to learn about all three or any other combination of these areas. This certificate program is open to degree-seeking students only.

Certificate Requirements: (15 credits)

Required Course

AFA 5005	African and African Diaspora Studies Theory (Offered every fall semester)	3

Studies and African and African Diaspora Studies
Vicky Silvera, Head, Special Collections, Library

African and African Diaspora Studies (AADS) encompasses the study of, and research on, the peoples of Sub-Saharan Africa and their experiences, and on communities of the African diaspora both in continental Africa and elsewhere in the Americas, Europe, Asia, and Australia. It also involves the dissemination of knowledge about Sub-Saharan continental African peoples and diasporic Africans internationally. Housed within the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs, and more specifically in the African & African Diaspora Studies Program (AADS), the Afro-Latin American Studies Graduate Certificate provides students with an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the global, economic, cultural, and historical experiences of all peoples of African descent in the Latin American region. We understand these communities of the African diaspora in Latin America have encompassing both those communities issued from the Transatlantic slave trade and their descendants, and more recent migration movements. The Certificate complements students' work in their major fields of study at the graduate level while fostering greater understanding of traditionally marginalized topics. Thanks to the diversity of areas of research interests of the core and affiliate AADS faculty, students will be able to choose courses that focus more specifically on Afro-Latin Americans living in both the region and in other geographic areas where Afro-Latin Americans have migrated to.

The Certificate places a strong emphasis on Afro-Latin American cultural expressions in all their national, sub-regional, temporal, and socioeconomic diversities. It offers coordinated insights into the ongoing challenges Afrodescendant communities face locally, nationally, and internationally. It also focuses on the ways in which Afro-Latin American communities and individuals have developed political and creative strategies for survival in the midst of, and resistance to, racism and political, economic, and social oppression. The Certificate will provide numerous opportunities for enrolled students to explore Afro-Latin American populations in economic processes of various kinds, underlining the specific challenges they might face. The Certificate is based on a number of courses that can be combined as described below, and that come from both the social science and humanities. This certificate program is open to degree-seeking students only.

Certificate Requirements (18 credits)

General Requirements

Students complete 18 credit hours of study from disciplines as diverse as geography, history, international relations, journalism, sociology, anthropology, literature, music, and political science. The two required courses (6 credits) should be taken at the start of the Certificate Program. The other 12 credits must come from the elective courses, comprising both Arts and Humanities courses, and Social Sciences courses. The program director may approve other courses upon request. Students requesting an exception from these lists must present a syllabus for the course they would like to enroll in, prior to enrollment. The courses considered for such an exception should have at least a 35% Afro-Latin American content. Not all courses are offered every semester.

Coordinating Committee

Rebecca Friedman, History

Tatiana Kostadinova, Politics and International Relations

Renée Silverman, Modern Languages

Oren Stier, Religious Studies

Markus Thiel, Politics and International Relations

Mira Wilkins, Economics

This multidisciplinary certificate brings together faculty expertise and student interest in European and Eurasian Studies. This Certificate is open to our Master's and Doctoral students and requires at least 15 credits of course work on Europe, from at least two disciplines. Certificate students are asked to take a variety of courses with European and Eurasian content from a number of disciplines that reach across the humanities, social sciences and the arts. This Graduate Certificate is designed so that students can demonstrate substantive knowledge about specific aspects of European culture, history, politics, economics and society, as well as demonstrate language competency and gain a broader understanding of Europe, the EU and its relationship to other parts of the globe.

This certificate program is open to degree-seeking students only. The program is ideal for students interested in a broader, multidisciplinary area studies perspective. At 15 credits (5 courses) this program provides both an overview of European history, culture, societies and politics and more nation-specific knowledge and training, as per the interests and goals of our students.

Admission Requirements

1. Baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution for higher education (or equivalent);
2. Minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale (or equivalent) for the last two years of undergraduate work.

Prescribed Courses and Other Requirements

Students must take five European-content classes in at least two academic disciplines (different course prefixes). Available courses will be listed on our website www.europe.fiu.edu each semester. All students are to choose from the courses listed below and earn a grade of "B" or better. These courses represent a partial list. Courses not included on the semester lists of approved courses may count toward meeting the requirement of the certificate only with the permission of the certificate director.

Sample Courses in European StudiesSocial Sciences:

CPO 6105	Politics of the European Union	3
CPO 6106	Seminar on European Politics	3
CPO 5091	Seminar in Comparative Politics	3

Graduate Certificate in Homeland Security and Emergency Management

Susannah Ali, Co-Chair and MPA Director

Nazife Emel Ganapati, Co-Chair

The Graduate Certificate in Homeland Security and Emergency Management is designed to provide critical analytic skills to "first-responders" and those in related fields. The certificate will help professionals navigate a complex intergovernmental policy framework with an eye to best practice allocation of scarce local and regional resources devoted to preventing or mitigating the potential impacts of natural and human-made perils. Coursework will focus on the roles and responsibilities of public, nonprofit, and private organizations in the context of South Florida's vulnerable operating environment. The content of this certificate is aligned with FIU's urban mission of providing engaged learning in its service as well as the Departmental mission of our accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) program which primary student body is in the local government sector. This certificate program is open to degree seeking students only.

Admissions

All applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and have an upper division GPA of at least 3.0. Applicants with GPA lower than 3.0 may be considered if they submit a GRE, LSAT or GMAT Score. Students must be admitted to the certificate program to start taking classes. Admission to a certificate does not guarantee admission to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program.

Note: Those students who apply for and are admitted to the Master of Public Administration degree program may have certificate courses credited toward the MPA degree provided each course has a grade of "B" or higher and the student is admitted to the master's degree program prior to the completion of no more than 12 Graduate Certificate credits.

Certificate Requirements (15 credits)

Required: (9 credits)

URP 5426	Emergency Management and Planning	3
PAD 6399	Homeland Security Management for State and Local Government	3
PAD 6379	Homeland Security Risk Assessment	3

Electives: (6 credits)

Certificate students who are not also MPA students must take PAD 6907 (Independent Study) as a certificate capstone. If they do, they will only have to take one additional elective course (3 credits).

URP 6315	Introduction to Urban Planning and Growth Management	3
PAD 5443	The Public Administrator and Media Relations	3
PAD 5043	Equitable and Inclusive Governance	3
PAD 6605	Administrative Law and Procedures	3

SYG 6932	Special Topics in Disaster Studies	3
PAD 5934*	Contemporary Issues in Public Administration	3
PAD 6946	Public Administration Internship	0-3

Students may take up to two electives outside the Department. These electives must be selected from a list of approved electives or must be approved by Certificate Co-Chairs.

*Depending on the topic of the course and pending MPA Program approval, PAD 5934 (Contemporary Issues) may be counted as a certificate elective.

Graduate Certificate in Human Resource Policy and Management

Susannah Ali, Co-Chair and MPA Director
Valerie Patterson, Co-Chair

Human Resource Policy and Management is designed to give graduate students a range of policy-analysis and management skills. It provides training in alternative personnel systems, (civil service, collective bargaining, privatization and service contracting), personnel techniques for productivity improvement, current issues, and ethics and professionalism. This certificate emphasizes the application of behavioral science concepts and techniques to employers in a multicultural context. This certificate program is open to degree seeking students only.

Admissions

All applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and have an upper division GPA of at least 3.0. Applicants with GPA lower than 3.0 may be considered if they submit a GRE, LSAT or GMAT Score. Students must be admitted to the certificate program to start taking classes. Admission to a certificate program does not guarantee admission to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program.

Note: Those students who apply for and are admitted to the Master of Public Administration degree program may have certificate courses credited toward an outside specialization in Human Resource Policy and Management. All the credits earned in a Graduate Certificate Program may be used in a master's degree program provided the student is admitted to the master's degree program prior to the completion of no more than 12 Graduate Certificate credits. All transferred courses must have a grade of 'B' or better.

Students must earn a minimum of 3.0 cumulative GPA. All course grades must be "C" or better.

Graduate Certificate in Iberian Studies

Coordinating Committee

Ana María Bidegain, Religious Studies

Annette B. Fromm, Art History

María Gómez, Modern Languages

This Graduate Certificate will consider the importance of Iberian cultures and their strong Mediterranean roots in the context of debates on European histories and societies. Likewise, it will strengthen the Latin American and Caribbean scholarly expertise of our university. The Certificate also fits very well within the university's strategic pillar and mission of globalization. In particular, the Iberian Peninsula, as well as the Mediterranean, constitute more than just a geopolitical space but rather represent a regional mélange connecting among a variety of cultures. These two regions also connect to the Caribbean and the larger Florida peninsula in various ways that could in turn translate into an innovative and unique program for the Green School's interdisciplinary focus. This certificate program is open to degree-seeking students only.

Certificate Requirements

Students must be enrolled in a Master or Ph.D. program at FIU. A total of 18 credit hours (6 courses) of graduate course work, with a cumulative GPA of 3.25 and a grade of "B" or higher in all courses applied toward certificate requirements.

Language Requirement

Students must be proficient in reading and comprehension of Spanish and/or Portuguese to be able to undertake research.

Required Courses

The Graduate Certificate in Iberian Studies is 18 credits. Four (4) courses required. NINE credits from among the participating disciplines, no more than one per discipline: History, Art History, Religious Studies, and Modern Languages plus THREE internship course credits.

Gayle Williams, Librarian, Information & Research Service, Library Operations, Latin America & Caribbean Information Services Librarian

Offered through the Kimberly Green Latin American and Caribbean Center (LACC), this graduate certificate provides an interdisciplinary approach to the study of Latin America and the Caribbean. The certificate may be awarded to both degree and non-degree seeking students who complete the requirements. For students pursuing a degree, the certificate is a complement to the student's discipline or major area of studies. For non-degree seeking students, the certificate provides a means for understanding more about Latin America and the Caribbean without pursuing a longer degree program.

Certificate Requirements

1. A total of 15 credit hours of graduate course work with a grade of 'B' or higher. Courses must come from the approved Latin American and Caribbean Studies course listing or be approved by the certificate faculty advisor. Courses may include those in the student's departmental major, but must be selected from at least two disciplines outside the student's major. A student may elect to focus on a country, region, or topic for the certificate (such as political science, Cuban studies, international business, art history, migration, etc.) or pursue a broader selection of courses in a variety of disciplines.
2. Each student is required to demonstrate reading proficiency in either Spanish or Portuguese, or in another regional language such as French, Haitian Creole, or Dutch when justified by research interests. Proficiency is demonstrated by scoring at least 'intermediate-high' on the ACTFL/ETS exam for Spanish, Portuguese, or French. Corresponding tests of proficiency may be accepted upon approval of the graduate advisor.

NOTE: Intermediate-high on the ACTFL/ETS exam (1-plus on the US government scale) can normally be attained by students with two undergraduate semesters of basic language instruction and at least one undergraduate semester of intermediate (3000/4000 level) instruction. Attainment of the required language proficiency is the responsibility of the student and extra courses to achieve the required proficiency level must be taken outside the certificate curriculum.

All LACC approved courses are posted at <https://lacc.fiu.edu/academics/courses/graduate/>.

All courses listed from 5000 through 7000 series may be applied to the certificate.

Students interested in pursuing a Latin American and Caribbean Studies Graduate Certificate should contact the certificate advisor at (305) 348-2894 or email lacc@fiu.edu.

Graduate Certificate in Middle East and Muslim World Studies

Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit and Community DevelopmentSusannah Ali, *Co-Chair and MPA Director*Sukumar Ganapati, Co-Chair

The Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit and Community Development is intended to provide critical tools and analytic frameworks useful to local decision-makers responsible for developing and managing sustainable, high-wage communities in an increasingly competitive world economy. Course material will address the critical drivers of local and regional development in the context of South Florida's "gateway" status for commerce and immigration. Content will address spatial, managerial, and social components of development. The certificate is aligned with FIU's urban mission of providing engaged learning in its service area as well as the Departmental mission of our NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) program which primary student body is in the local government sector. This certificate program is open to degree seeking students only.

Admissions

All applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and have an upper division GPA of at least 3.0. Applicants with GPA lower than 3.0 may be considered if they submit a GRE, LSAT or GMAT Score. Students must be admitted to the certificate program to start taking classes. Admission to a certificate does not guarantee admission to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program.

Note: Those students who apply for and are admitted to the Master of Public Administration degree program may have certificate courses credited toward the MPA degree provided each course has a grade of "B" or higher and the student is admitted to the master's degree program prior to the completion of no more than 12 Graduate Certificate credits.

Graduate Certificate in Public Management

Susannah Ali, Chair and MPA Director

This graduate certificate program provides students with a thorough understanding of the managerial concepts and techniques of public administration and is designed particularly for those who already have a professional field of specialization. The Certificate is designed for non-Master of Public Administration (MPA) students, although students who are admitted into this Certificate program may apply for admission to the MPA program. Current MPA students may not be admitted to this Certificate.

Certificate Requirements

Admissions

All applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and have an upper division GPA of at least 3.0. Applicants with GPA lower than 3.0 may be considered if they submit a GRE, LSAT or GMAT Score. Students must be admitted to the certificate program to start taking classes. Admission to a certificate program does not guarantee admission to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program. This certificate program is open to degree seeking students only.

Note: Those students who apply for and are admitted to the Master of Public Administration degree program may have certificate courses credited toward the MPA core. All the credits earned in a Graduate Certificate Program may be used in a master's degree program provided the student is admitted to the master's degree program prior to the completion of no more than 12 Graduate Certificate credits. Courses with a grade of less than 'B' may not count toward MPA program if they were taken as certificate courses.

2. Students must complete 18 credit hours of graduate level courses in the general area of religion.
3. Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in their graduate religion courses.
4. Earned grades in the 18 hours of graduate religion courses must be "B" or better; grades of "B-" or below will not be counted toward the 18.
5. Students in the Graduate Certificate Program in Religious Studies who wish to transfer into the MA program must meet the requirements for matriculation.

Graduate Certificate in Sustainable Communities

Coordinating Committee

Marta Canaves, Landscape Architecture

Richard S. Olson, Politics and International Relations

Christine E. Gudorf, Religious Studies

John H. Boyd, III, Economics

Joel Heinen, Earth and Environment

The Graduate Certificate in Sustainable Communities offers students an introduction to the theoretical and methodological tools necessary to critique and conduct research on society/environment interactions. The objective of the certificate is to prepare students to participate in current environmental debates, whether through scholarship and teaching, non academic professional activities or activism. The certificate requires eighteen credits of interdisciplinary courses.

This certificate will appeal to an interdisciplinary graduate student population at FIU drawing students from the Green School, the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as other schools and colleges (as reflected in the requirements below). In particular, the certificate will aid students interested in natural resource management and conservation, regional and urban planning, as well as domestic and international development and policy issues. This certificate program is open to degree-seeking students only. The certificate will serve students interested in pursuing careers in local, national and international government and non-governmental organizations, as well as academic careers.

Certificate Requirements

1. Application to the Certificate Program.
2. Acceptance to and good standing in a graduate degree program at FIU.

Graduate Certificate in Urban Policy Innovations

Susannah Ali, Chair and MPA Director

The Graduate Certificate in Urban Policy Innovations is designed to provide critical analytical and policymaking skills to public and nonprofit leaders and professionals. It prepares them to identify, analyze, and develop innovative policy solutions for urban issues and challenges in areas of, including but not limited to, housing, transportation, economic development, urban revitalization, sustainability and resilience, smart growth, social equity, law enforcement and crime, climate change, and health care. The certificate is devoted to developing the next generation of problem solvers, policy innovators, and public leaders. It provides professional training and career preparation for those seeking careers and advancements in the design, implementation, evaluation, and advocacy of public policies, as analysts, consultants, and elected officials in the local, state, and federal governments. The content of this certificate is aligned with FIU's urban mission of providing inclusive learning and with the mission of the NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) program which develops quality workforce in public policy, administration and management. This certificate program is open to degree seeking students only.

Admissions

All applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and have an upper division GPA of at least 3.0.
