Purpose

Mission

The mission of the undergraduate marketing major is to develop graduates who will be highly valued and actively recruited by the business community for their skills.

Curriculum Educational Objectives

By graduation, students are expected to be able to:
1. Recognize and apply the components that affect buyer decision-making.
2. Identify the elements of and determine appropriate practices for a personal brand strategy.
3. Identify business information needs and select appropriate data collection processes.
4. Analyze a prospect’s needs, uncover the objections to closing the sale, and select appropriate sales strategies.
5. Analyze an organization’s marketing strategy and determine appropriate and inappropriate marketing alternatives.

BBA in Marketing

Students who decide to pursue a Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) in Marketing will be given a broad foundation in marketing concepts, and practice in their contemporary contexts. Students will have opportunities to pursue a greater depth of understanding in select areas of the discipline. Marketing students are encouraged to apply for and complete one of the available certificate programs listed later in this section.

Marketing and Logistics Minors
Qualified undergraduate students must apply to the College of Business to request one of the minors offered in Marketing and Logistics.

To earn one of these minors in Marketing and Logistics, students must complete the required credit-hours of course work and receive a grade of "C" or higher in each course:

Minor in General Marketing (15 credits)
All majors need to understand who their customers are, what they look for, and how to properly position a product or service for customer satisfaction. Knowing how to do these things can make a graduate much more valuable in any organization. In this minor, students can explore such areas as product planning and management, distribution, marketing research, retailing, advertising and promotion, consumer behavior, customer relations, and global marketing.

The minor in General Marketing is open to all students except those majoring in Marketing or students formally pursuing any certificate offered by the Department of Marketing and Logistics.

Required Courses
- MAR 3023 Introduction to Marketing – GL
- MAR 4503 Consumer Behavior

In addition, students must complete three of the following courses:
- MAR 4025 Marketing of Small Business Enterprises
- MAR 4144 Export Marketing
- MAR 4156 International Marketing
- MAR 4203 Marketing Channels
- MAR 4231 Retail Marketing

- TRA 4203 Principles of Logistics
- TRA 4721 Global Logistics

Minor in Logistics and Supply Chain Management (12 credits)
In today's global economy, most organizations require the movement of information, products, supplies, materials, and personnel in order to fulfill organizational serves. This movement of human, physical, and informational capital involves logistics and supply chain management. This minor provides students with a working knowledge of logistics and supply chain concepts, and is designed to complement a student's major field of study and enhance career opportunities. Logistics knowledge can appeal to students in any field, but students in certain fields may be particularly interested, such as those in engineering, politics, architecture, environmental studies, sustainability, economics, international relations, tourism management, hospitality management, health administration, and public administration. Students in fields where they expect to deal with international transportation of physical materials or personnel would also benefit. Students must receive a grade of “C” or higher in each course to be awarded the minor.

The minor in Logistics and Supply Chain Management is open to all students except those majoring in Logistics and Supply Chain Management or students formally pursuing the International Logistics certificate.

Minor in Professional Sales (12 credits)

Research shows that more than 50% of college graduates from a wide variety of majors and backgrounds enter a career in sales. Sales drive economic growth in all industries and through all marketing channels. The opportunities for sales careers far outnumber those in any other area. Recruiters in all industries are looking for students who can add value to organizations, internally and/or externally. This value comes from skills in these areas: interpersonal interactions and communications, questioning, listening, objection handling, negotiations, closing and service. This minor prepares students in any academic field with real-world, specialized training in the skills needed to succeed in this career area demanded by today’s job market.

The minor in Professional Sales is open to all students except those majoring in Marketing or students formally pursuing the certificate in Sales and Customer Relationship Management.

Certificate in Health and Fitness Marketing

The health and fitness marketing certificate is open to degree-seeking students only. This certificate is designed to enhance a student’s knowledge of how marketing principles, practices, and strategies can be applied to the many health marketing and fitness marketing opportunities that exist in business, health, education, entertainment, and other fields. Health and fitness marketing are unique in that they rely highly on the desire to change individuals’ behaviors in a manner that provides long-term benefits to the individuals themselves and society (and the economy) as a whole. It is appropriate for students in a variety of careers, for example:

- the promotion of health services, dietetics and nutrition, and long-term behavioral health change;
- the marketing of fitness, exercise, physical training, etc.;
- building participation in sports programs, fitness facilities, parks and recreation programs, summer camps, etc.;
- advocacy for educational system fitness programs and school, district, regional, and national levels;
- health and fitness promotion from a public health and/or nursing perspective;
- company and organizational health and fitness for human resource managers.

To earn the certificate in health and fitness marketing, students must complete six courses (18 credit hours) with no individual course grade below a “C”.

Academic Standard

The Department of Marketing requires that marketing majors receive a grade of “C” or higher in all marketing major courses and upper division business electives. It is also strongly recommended that marketing majors join the American Marketing Association Student Chapter and participate actively in its events. To improve the learning experience and to assure employers of the quality of a graduate with a marketing major all marketing majors will take a comprehensive examination of their marketing knowledge and capabilities that will be offered at the end of the MAR 4804 capstone strategy course.
