Admission to the various Master’s programs differs. Applicants for admission to most Master’s of Science programs in Education must hold or qualify for Florida teacher certification in the appropriate area (see specific program area in this catalog for details). In some programs, applicants must also satisfy the following minimum requirements: A GPA of 3.0 in the last 60 semester hours of upper division undergraduate study. Some, but not all programs require a 1000 (total of verbal and quantitative) on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Students should check with the department for specific admissions requirements.

Specific programs may have higher standards for admission. Having a minimum GPA and GRE score does not assure admission to a program. Admission is subject to the approval of program faculty.

Prior to formal admission to a graduate program, students may be approved to enroll in up to 12 semester hours of 5000 or higher level graduate credit as non-degree seeking students, 12 of which, if applicable to the major field of study and approved by an advisor, may be applied to the degree program if the grade received is “B” or higher.

Graduate students will complete at least 30 semester hours of study beyond the bachelor’s degree to earn a Master of Science degree in education. However, specific programs may require more than the minimum number of hours. Students may transfer a maximum 6 semester hours taken at another accredited college or university toward a master’s degree program having more than 45 semester hours with approval from the advisor and the Graduate School.

Master’s program students must maintain an overall GPA of 3.0 in order to graduate. No grades of ‘C-’ or less received in courses that are part of a master’s degree program of study will be accepted toward graduation.

Admission requirements include those required of any graduate student in a M.S. level degree program. In addition, students applying into initial certification programs (e.g., MAT, School Counseling Track, School Psychology, Reading Education, and Educational Leadership) must pass all sections of the CLAS, or the General Knowledge Exam, or the Praxis I. Students may substitute scores of 1000 in the GRE for the CLAS.

Note: Students who pass the CLAST prior to July 1, 2002 will be waived from taking the new General Knowledge test. Please see your faculty advisor to be certain all requirements are met.
