Master of Science in Counselor Education

Applicants are required to submit an on-line application to the Office of Graduate Admissions. All applicants must submit official transcripts, three letters of recommendation (at least one from academic sources and one from work or volunteer experience), an autobiographical statement and a curriculum vitae (resume). Candidates are admitted by recommendation of the Program’s Graduate Admissions Committee. Minimum criteria for program acceptance include an undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 for the Rehabilitation Counseling track and 3.2 for the Clinical Mental Health and School Counseling tracks. Applicants with a completed Master’s degree or higher, who do not meet the undergraduate GPA, will have their graduate GPA considered, as long as it is a 3.2 or higher. An interview is required for admission into the program.

Students may request to transfer six semester hours earned at another institution into the program provided the course work taken does not exceed a three year time period and meet University’s requirements. Transferring in more than 6 hours requires special permission from your advisor and the Dean of the University Graduate School. Students are allowed a maximum of six years from the date of initial enrollment to complete program requirements.

Given the unique nature of the field of counseling requiring mastery of cognitive skills and demonstration of relevant and appropriate interpersonal skills, the faculty retains the right to “counsel out” of the program and/or not recommend for internship placement any student whose level of interpersonal competence is considered incompatible with that required for effective functioning as a practitioner in counseling.

All stated admission requirements are to be considered minimal. A student who meets these minimal requirements is not automatically assured admission. Program admission requirements are subject to change. It is the responsibility of the student to assure that he/she has met the requirements. Applications are reviewed upon their completion. Allow 6-8 weeks for application to be processed by the Graduate Admissions Office.

All programs preparing school personnel are approved by the State of Florida, and allow students completing the program to be eligible for certification by the State.
Once admitted, each student is responsible for tracking academic progress throughout the program, and a degree can be revoked if academic dishonesty or fraudulence is discovered.

Counselor Education Degree/Tracks

The Master of Science in Counselor Education Tracks prepare individuals for professional counseling positions in schools, community mental health settings, and rehabilitation agencies and institutions. These programs emphasize the blending of research and theory with practical applied experience. They also emphasize and reflect the urban and multicultural nature of our community, as well as general trends within specified fields. All programs involve intensive field work with accompanying seminars.

Individuals interested in majoring in Counselor Education can select one of three tracks; School Counseling (57 credits), Clinical Mental Health Counseling (60 credits), and Rehabilitation Counseling (60 credits). The early part of each program is largely generic in nature and is concerned with the development of knowledge and skills in the areas of individual and group counseling, consultation, preventive mental health, education-vocational development, client appraisal, systems intervention, and program organization and evaluation. The latter part of each program is more differentiated towards the practice of school counseling, mental health counseling, or rehabilitation counseling. The prospective student should be advised that a substantial amount of time is spent in field work to meet practicum and internship requirements. The student should plan for this field work to be during the day, rather than during evening hours. Because internship experiences require full time work in the field, students are advised that full time employment is not compatible with successful completion of the program.

The Master of Science in Counselor Education, School Counseling Track, is nationally accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP) and is approved by the State of Florida Department of Education, the Florida Board of Regents, and accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). The Master of Science in Counselor Education, Clinical Mental Health Counseling Track, is nationally accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP) and meets all requirements as outlined by the Florida Department of Medical Quality Assurance for licensure as a Mental Health Counselor. The Master of Science in Counselor Education, Rehabilitation Counseling Track, is nationally accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) and prepares students for certification in Rehabilitation Counseling (CRC).

Counselor Education: School Counseling Track (57 credits):

All students entering the School Counseling program with an undergraduate degree in an area other than education must enroll for courses in general professional education as required by the Florida State Department of Education in order to meet state certification requirements in Florida. In addition, all students must have passed the CLAST, or the General Knowledge Exam, or the Praxis I. After July 1, 2002, the CLAST exam may be waived for admission purposes if the student has a score of 1000 and higher on the GRE.

Higher Education
The program culminating in the Doctor of Education in Higher Education is designed to provide the opportunity for students to enhance analytical and research skills for leadership roles in institutions of higher education. Graduates are prepared for academic and administrative positions, as faculty, or as policy analysts in federal, state, or institutional roles. The program is designed to stimulate research related to higher education, particularly in urban settings.

Admission Requirements
Applicants to the program must submit the following records and documents to the Office of Graduate Admissions:

1. A completed online application for Graduate Admission with appropriate fees;
2. An official copy of the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) scores;
3. Official transcripts of all higher education institutions attended;
4. Three letters of reference attesting to the applicant’s ability to succeed in doctoral study;
5. A current résumé/vita;
6. A statement that sets forth the applicant’s career goals and relates these goals to the completion of the doctoral program; and
7. A writing sample illustrating research skills (such as a thesis, journal article, paper submitted for academic credit; etc.).
8. Letters and any other supporting documents are to be sent to FIU Graduate Admissions Office, 11200 SW 8th Street, PC 230, Miami, FL 33199.

No action will be taken on incomplete files. A file is considered incomplete if any of the above is missing.

The application and all supporting documentation are reviewed by program faculty using the criteria noted below. Exceptions to one or more of the stated criteria may be granted on the basis of other compelling evidence that the applicant is likely to be successful in this doctoral program.

1. A grade point average (GPA) of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) in upper level undergraduate credits;
2. A 3.25 GPA in all graduate work attempted.
3. A master’s degree from an accredited institution, preferably in a related field.
4. Official GRE scores.
5. 6. The evidence from the writing sample that the applicant can perform doctoral-level work.
7. Professional experience (other than a graduate assistantship) in a college or university is highly preferred.
8. An interview with the Program Admissions Committee.
Members of the program’s graduate faculty will constitute the Doctoral Admissions Committee. Upon completion of the review of the applicant’s file and the interview, the Doctoral Admissions Committee will make recommendations for acceptance or rejection to the Office of Graduate Studies and to the Dean of the College. The ultimate decision lies with the University Graduate School.

As admission to programs is competitive, meeting minimum admission requirements does not assure admission into the program. A candidate for admission to the program will be judged not only on the basis of quantitative criteria (e.g., GRE), but also in relation to prior experience, especially as it relates to future career goals and faculty expertise. Additional information is available from the individual program faculty.

The cognate may be taken in the School of Education, and may be used as an extension of expertise in the major. The cognate may also be taken at any college at FIU.

Guided Cognate or Minor (18)

In lieu of a more traditional, open-ended cognate, the student may opt to take a more focused area of study. The cognates/minors below, and the required courses, are as follows:

Adult Education/Human Resources (18)

This cognate/minor is designed to give students in the doctoral program in Higher Education preparation to facilitate individual, organizational, and career development and advancement of adults in the nation and the world.

Five other courses approved by the program leader in AE/HRD and the student’s advisor.

EDH 7980 Ed.D. Dissertation 12

The student is responsible for a minimum of 12 semester hours of dissertation credits. All doctoral students must be continuously enrolled in a minimum of three (3) dissertation credits each term following advancement to candidacy until graduation.

Program of Study

The Program of Study is the student’s plan for coursework in all the required areas of program. The required sections include the professional, research, educational policy, and higher education cores, as well as the cognate or track, the doctoral seminar, and the dissertation hours. The program of study must be approved by the student’s Program Advisory Committee (see below). Prior to the candidacy examination (see below), students must complete a program of study, approved by the program committee, to the SOE Office of Graduate Studies.

Candidacy Examination and Advancement to Candidacy

The student must successfully pass qualifying examinations after substantially completing their non-dissertation course work. The qualifying examination consists of both written and oral portions (the latter is called the defense of the candidacy examination). The candidacy examination is written and graded by the students’ program advisory committee. The chair of the program advisory committee will forward the Office of Graduate Studies and to the University Graduate School.
the results of the candidacy examination. The University Graduate School admits students to candidacy.

Program Advisory Committee

After admission, but before the candidacy examination, the student must constitute the program advisory committee. This committee must be made up of three graduate faculty, one of which will be the chair and one of which must include a member of the program’s faculty. The committee will approve the student’s program of study, and it will develop and grade the candidacy examination. The program advisory committee ends upon the student’s completion of the candidacy examination.

Dissertation Committee

Prior to defending a proposal, the students must select a dissertation committee, made up of at least 4 faculty members, one of which will be the director (or chair) of the dissertation. The chair/director of the dissertation must have Dissertation Advisor Status and all committee members must also be members of the FIU Graduate Faculty. Further information about the dissertation is available from the student’s advisor, the Office of Graduate Studies in the School of Education, and the University Graduate School.

Dissertation Proposal

The students admitted to candidacy must successfully complete and defend a proposal for their dissertation, which constitutes the research plan for the dissertation. More information about the dissertation proposal is available from the student’s advisor, the Office of Graduate Studies in the School of Education, and the University Graduate School.

The Ed.D. Dissertation

The dissertation must be an original contribution to knowledge. The doctoral dissertation is the final component of the series of academic experiences that culminate in the awarding of the Ed.D. degree. A successful dissertation is a demonstration of the candidate’s ability to use the tools and methods of basic and/or applied research in the field, to organize the findings, and to report them in a literate, logical, and compelling fashion.

Transfer Credit

Students may apply up to 12 semester hours of previously-completed graduate credit towards their program of study if taken as part of a completed degree (only six (6) graduate credits may be applied from a non-completed graduate degree). Exceptions to this rule may only be given with the approval of the program faculty and the University Graduate School. Students may apply courses for which they have obtained a B grade or better from an accredited institution. The transfer credit cannot be used to satisfy more than one-half of the requirements in any section of the program of study.

Time to Completion

The time to completion, from admission to graduation, is nine (9) years. Students must have completed all coursework and program requirements within that time, including a successful defense of the dissertation. Coursework applied toward completion of program requirements cannot be more than nine years old at the time of graduation, unless the coursework was transferred from a previously-earned graduate degree.

Graduation Requirements

The following is required for successful graduation from the program:

1. Successful completion of the program of study, including all coursework and comprehensive exams;
2. GPA of 3.0 or better; and
3. Successful completion, defense, and University approval of the dissertation.

Graduate Certificate in Academic Advising

The graduate certificate program in academic advising is designed for those wishing to enter the field of academic advising or those working in academic advising with a degree in another discipline. The master’s degree is typically the entry-level requirements for an advising position at the university level. For those with a graduate degree in another discipline, the certificate can provide a foundation in the theory and practice of advising. For those interested in the field, a certificate can be a concentration within a master’s degree in higher education. The advising certificate consists of 15 hours or required courses and electives. This certificate program is open to non-degree-seeking students only.

Admission Requirements

1. A baccalaureate degree and an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 in the last 60 credit hours of upper-division undergraduate study;
2. Work experience in higher education such as community college or student affairs areas is preferred but not required;
3. Two (2) letters of recommendation;
4. Personal statement;
5. Resume.
6. Letters and any other supporting documents are to be sent to FIU Graduate Admissions Office, 11200 SW 8th Street, PC 230, Miami, FL 33199.
7. Note: The GRE is not a requirement for admission into the Certificate in Academic Advising program.

Program Requirements: (15 semester hours)

In consultation with their advisor, the certificate student will select a set of courses that align with their career goals and professional development needs.
