General Information

The Department of Counseling, Recreation and School Psychology offers programs and courses for students interested in working in a wide range of organizational, urban/ multicultural/ international contexts of education and training. Academic preparation focuses on such areas as research/evaluation, counselor education, school psychology, recreation therapy and recreation and sport management. In addition, the department provides the core undergraduate and graduate curricula in the psychological foundations of education and research, measurement, and evaluation. The department offers master's degrees in counselor education and recreation and sport management, the specialist degree in school psychology and an undergraduate degree in Recreation and Sport Management. Department faculty are recognized as national/international scholars, exemplify outstanding teaching practices, and are committed to taking a leadership role in the provision of professional services and the process of community engagement. The faculty are worlds ahead in their commitment to serving and maximizing student learning, engaging in the discovery and dissemination of new knowledge, and encouraging a creative and innovative spirit among students. Community engagement plays a pivotal role in the programs and sponsored-research projects implemented through the department, where critical problems confronting our communities are identified and addressed.

The following pages describe the various graduate offerings in the department and the corresponding requirements. It should be noted that stated admission requirements are to be considered minimal. A student who meets these minimal requirements is not automatically assured admission. Program admission requirements are subject to change. It is the responsibility of the student to assure that he/she has met the requirements.

The Department of Counseling, Recreation and School Psychology offers the following degree programs:

Master's Degrees

Counselor Education

School Counseling Track

Clinical Mental Health Counseling Track

Rehabilitation Counseling Track

Recreation and Sport Management

Recreation and Sport Management Track

Recreational Therapy Track

Educational Specialist Degree

School Psychology

Master of Science in Counselor Education

Applicants are required to submit an on-line application to the Office of Graduate Admissions. All applicants must submit official transcripts, three letters of recommendation (at least one from academic sources and one from work or volunteer experience), an autobiographical statement and a curriculum vitae (resume). After initial review of application materials, candidates will be invited to participate in interview activities on a day coordinated by the Counselor Education program. Candidates are admitted by recommendation of the Program's Graduate Admissions Committee. Minimum criteria for program acceptance include an undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 for the Rehabilitation Counseling track and 3.2 for the Clinical Mental Health and School Counseling tracks. Applicants with a completed Master's degree or higher, who do not meet the undergraduate GPA, will have their graduate GPA considered, as long as it is a 3.2 or higher. The program operates in a full-time cohort model. As such, candidates are admitted to either a Fall and Spring cohort and complete coursework together within their respective cohort. The application deadline for Fall admissions takes place in March, while the application deadline for Spring admissions takes place in October.

Students may request to transfer six semester hours earned at another institution that is CACREP accredited into the program provided the course work taken does not exceed a three year time period and meet University's requirements. Students must complete this process with their advisor during the first semester in the program. Students are allowed a maximum of six years from the date of initial enrollment to complete program requirements.

Given the unique nature of the field of counseling requiring mastery of cognitive skills and demonstration of relevant and appropriate interpersonal skills, the faculty retains the right to "counsel out" of the program and/or not recommend for internship placement any student whose level of interpersonal competence is considered incompatible with that required for effective functioning as a practitioner in counseling.

All stated admission requirements are to be considered minimal. A student who meets these minimal requirements is not automatically assured admission. Program admission requirements are subject to change. It is the responsibility of the student to assure that he/she has met the requirements. Allow 6-8 weeks for applications to be processed by the Graduate Admissions Office.

Once admitted, each student is responsible for tracking academic progress throughout the program, and a degree can be revoked if academic dishonesty or fraudulence is discovered.

Counselor Education Degree/Tracks

The Master of Science in Counselor Education Tracks prepare individuals for professional counseling positions in schools, community mental health settings, and rehabilitation agencies and institutions. These programs emphasize the blending of research and theory with practical applied experience. They also emphasize and reflect the urban and multicultural nature of our community, as well as general trends within specified fields. All programs involve intensive field work with accompanying seminars.

Individuals interested in majoring in Counselor Education can select one of three tracks; School Counseling (60 credits), Clinical Mental Health Counseling (60 credits), and Rehabilitation Counseling (60 credits). The early part of each program is largely generic in nature and is concerned with the development of knowledge and skills in the areas of individual and group counseling, consultation, preventive mental health, education-vocational development, client appraisal, systems intervention, and program organization and evaluation. The latter part of each program is more differentiated towards the practice of school counseling, mental health counseling, or rehabilitation counseling. The prospective student should be advised that a substantial amount of time is spent in field work to meet practicum and internship requirements. The student should plan for this field work to be during the day, rather than during evening hours. Because internship experiences require full time work in the field, students are advised that full time employment is not compatible with successful completion of the program.

The Master of Science in Counselor Education, School Counseling Track, is nationally accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP) and is approved by the State of Florida Department of Education, which allows students completing the program to be eligible for certification in Guidance and Counseling. The Master of Science in Counselor Education, Clinical Mental Health Counseling Track, is nationally accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP) and meets all requirements as outlined by the Florida Department of Medical Quality Assurance for licensure as a Mental Health Counselor. The Master of Science in Counselor Education, Rehabilitation Counseling Track, is nationally accredited Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP) and prepares students for certification in Rehabilitation Counseling (CRC).

Counselor Education: School Counseling Track (60 credits):

All students entering the School Counseling program with an undergraduate degree in an area other than education must enroll for courses in general professional education as required by the Florida State Department of Education in order to meet state certification requirements in Florida. In addition, all students must have passed the CLAST, or the General Knowledge Exam, or the Praxis I. After July 1, 2002, the CLAST exam may be waived for admission purposes if the student has a score of 1000 and higher on the GRE.

Application for clinical experiences for school counseling must have faculty advisor approval and be submitted to the School Counseling track coordinator by March 15 for a Fall placement, October 15 for a Spring semester placement.

Counselor Education: Clinical Mental Health Counseling Track (60 credits):

Students seeking admission to the track in Clinical Mental Health Counseling with an "out of field major" are required to successfully complete 9 hours of prerequisite psychology courses prior to acceptance. Out of field majors are students who do not hold a Bachelor's degree in Psychology (or a related field). The student should consult with an advisor with reference to these courses. Required prerequisite courses for "out of field" majors applying for admission to the graduate program in Clinical Mental Health Counseling include:

- An introductory course in Psychology (e.g., PSY 2012 Introduction to Psychology),
- A course in either:
 - Educational Psychology (e.g., EDP 3004 Educational Psychology), or
 - Abnormal Psychology (e.g., CLP 4146 Abnormal Psychology),
 - or Personality Theories (e.g., PPE 3003 Personality Theory), and
- A Research/Statistics course (e.g., STA 2122 Research-Statistics).

NOTE: The course numbers of the above prerequisite courses are those used at FIU. All prerequisite courses must be completed with a minimum grade of a "C" in each course and a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher for all courses taken.
